DEATHS INCREASING.

Sixteen Deaths in New Orleans and Other Louisiana Towns Sunday.

New Orleans, Aug. 28.—Yesterday's record shows the smallest number of new cases since Aug. 6, and the largest number of deaths on any day since the fever made its appearance. The unusual number of deaths is attributed to a measure to the change in the weather, last night being cool and pleasant, in great contrast to the weather of the preceding week. Three well-known merchants are among the new cases. Only two names that can be traced to Italian origin are among the 31. Of the deaths eight are Italians. Two died in the Charity Hospital and two in the Emergency. All but two of the deaths were down town. The principle news from outside the city was the announcement from Natchez of the discovery of six cases there and the attempt to blame New Orleans for them. This is regarded as rather strange, in view of the fact that all of the tight quarantines against New Orleans, Natchez has maintained the tightest, not even allowing its own people to enter if they had been near New Orleans.

Report to 6 p. m. Sunday:
New cases.....31
Total to date.....1,743
Deaths.....1,13
Total.....2,876
New foci.....12
Total foci.....402
Remaining under treatment.....199
Other points in Louisiana report 21 new cases and 3 deaths.

HENRY ROPER

One of the Jurors in the Fletcher Case.

Russellville, Ky., Aug. 26.—J. Pope Fletcher, charged with assaulting Mary Gladder, sat beside his attorneys, eyeing keenly the twelve men sworn to try the charge, shortly before noon to day, after a delay of three days, during which time more than three hundred citizens of Logan and Todd counties had been examined.

The jury, with the exception of J. L. Baugh, is composed of Todd county citizens. The jury is as follows: J. L. Baugh, P. S. Latham, J. E. McAfee, W. M. Wisdom, H. R. Roper, W. S. Wilcox, W. M. Braden, N. E. Christian, Gaither McGee, James T. Penick, George Mimms and W. L. Wright. Juror Roper is editor of the Todd County Times. Penick is a lumber man and the others are farmers.

John Sacra, one of the four men implicated in the crime, has already been given a death sentence and the case against Fletcher is said to be just as strong.

SIX PAIRS OF TWINS

Help Make Up Family Circle of Allentown, Pa., Couple.

Allentown, Pa., Aug. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Allen C. Depp, of Hickory Run, with the appearance of twins yesterday, are the parents of 23 children. The parents are only 40 years old, and claim to have the largest family in America, age considered. They were married 18 years ago. Six pairs of twins are now numbered in the family circle. Depp is employed as a section foreman of a railroad.

Mr. Harry Hopper, of Pulaski, Tenn., spent Sunday and Monday in the city.

NO MEETING YESTERDAY.

Peace Conference Making
Slow Progress Towards Agreement.

NOT WITHOUT HOPE.

The Mere Fact That Negotiations Are Still On Supports Wellman's Theory.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 28.—The session of the peace conference which was to have been held today at Portsmouth has been postponed until Tuesday at 4 o'clock p. m. The postponement was made at the request of Mr. Takahira, who explained in a conference with M. Witte that the Japanese envoys had received no word from Tokio. Mr. Takahira, when asked last night whether he regarded the situation as hopeless, responded: "No; not hopeless, but almost hopeless." It is probable the conference will break up Tuesday if Japan has no new proposition to offer. A cablegram from Tokio says the Japanese Cabinet and the elder statesmen are in special session to discuss the latest phase of the peace conference at Portsmouth.

The Russians generally seem not displeased with the situation. They believe Japan has been diplomatically maneuvered into a corner from which, if she now persists in her attempt to exact tribute with the alternative of a continuance of the war, she cannot extricate herself before the public opinion of the world. Japan here and in Europe, they say, appealed for sympathy on the ground that Russia had compelled her to take up arms to protect her life. The fortune of war had gone in her favor, and Russia, recognizing that she had been beaten, and preferring peace to the continuation of the war, had agreed to cede upon every point involved in the quarrel. She was willing to allow Japan full swing in Korea, she was willing to get out of Manchuria, bag and baggage, and commit herself to the recognition of China's integrity and the policy of "the open door." But Japan insisted upon tribute, and because Russia refused, prolongs the carnage. In that act they contend Japan would change the purpose and character of the war which would cease to be no longer one of principle, but degenerate into a war for the exaction of money.

There is no doubt that the Japanese are worried over this aspect of the situation, and they do not propose to be placed in this position if it can be helped.

WALKED OFF STEAMER.

Aubrey Stalls, Was Drowned
Near Dover.

Clarksville, Tenn., Aug. 25.—Mr. Aubrey Stalls, a white passenger on the steamer Dunbar, which plies between Paducah, Ky., and Nashville, was drowned Tuesday night near Dover. Stalls was about 40 years old and was registered from Center Furnace, Ky., where he removed some time ago from Dover. He was last seen alive Tuesday night on the steamer on his way to visit at Dover. He was said to be under the influence of liquor and while in this condition is thought to have walked off of the boat into the river. He was not missed until Wednesday morning and his body was not recovered until Wednesday afternoon, when it was found at Canton, Ky.

Complete returns from the Democratic primary in the Bath-Rowan legislative district show that W. A. Young's majority over Waller Sharp is 859. Young was the Paymaster candidate. He is a brother of Judge Allie Young.

IN CITY COURT.

Judge Knight Was Kept Busy Yesterday.

Monday was a busy day in police court. Fine negroes, Geo. Buckner, Will Thomas, Clinton Boales, Josh O'Brien and Jerry Tyler, were arranged before Judge Knight on a charge of crap shooting. After hearing the court assessed a fine against each of them which they were unable to pay and they were put to work under Superintendent Outlaw cleaning the streets.

Henry Campbell, col., was tried for jumping on a moving train and found guilty. He paid his fine.

Will Lennox, col., of Evansville, was arrested for raising a row and carrying a concealed weapon on an excursion train. He was found guilty and is doing service on the streets for the city.

Two white men were arraigned for drunkenness and fined a small which they failed to pay and are now working it out on the streets.

DON'T REALIZE CHARGE.

Luster Trying to Play Crazy to Escape the Gallows.

Guthrie, Ky., Aug. 26.—Percy J. Luster, the wife murderer, appeared before Judge Duffy Thursday, and when asked if he knew what he was there for, he replied in the negative.

When the Judge told him he was there to answer the charge of willful murder, his face assumed a horrified expression, he clutched the round of his chair, trembled violently, and cried out: "What Murder? Me?" Judge Duffy appointed S. Walton Forgy to defend Luster. His examining trial will be held Saturday, September 2.

SERIOUS FALL.

Mr. Oscar Cushman Fell
From Barn Saturday.

Last Saturday while in the upper part of his barn, Mr. J. O. Cushman fell to the ground and sustained serious injury. He was picked up and carried into the house in an unconscious condition. Medical aid was called at once and it was feared that he had received internal injury that might prove fatal. He was soon restored to consciousness and the proper remedies administered. He is getting along all right now and will be out in a few days.

TOBACCO ADVANCING.

Situation as Reported by a Clarksville Paper.

The Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle says tobacco is advancing; all the Western markets are reported higher now than at any time this year and there is still little or no tobacco on any of the markets. Paducah, Mayfield and Hopkinsville all report the lightest stocks on their markets, ever known at this season. The stocks on the Board of Trade market of Clarksville are also reported very light and none suited to the demand of the orders in hand. Louisville is said to have less than 500 hogheads of dark tobacco (Green River and Owensboro types) in stock. The Farmers Association seems to hold all of the best types of desirable tobacco and they are pleased over the prospect of a decided advance that will pay them for holding so long under the strained situation.

The French government is coming directly to the Association for her supply. The French agent has already bought 3,500 hogheads from the Association and wants more.

HAYNES-KENNER.

Young Couple Leave With Matrimonial Intentions.

Mr. Lionel Haynes, of Dickson, Tenn., and Miss Brenda Kenner, of this city, left here at 5:18 Sunday afternoon for Tennessee with matrimonial intentions. It is thought the young couple went to Nashville and had the ceremony performed and then went to the groom's home in Dickson, where they will reside.

Mr. Haynes and Miss Kenner had been sweethearts for some time, but no one knew of their intentions until they boarded the train Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Haynes is said to be a young man of fine business qualifications and good habits. His bride is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. Kenner, of this city, and is a very pretty and attractive young lady and many friends here wish for her a full realization of the fondest dreams of married life.

STICKY FEET OF FLIES.
How the Tiny Pedals of the Pastilleur
Insist Adhere to Smooth Surfaces.

Of the common bluebottle fly John J. Ward writes: "Each foot is provided with a pair of stout claws. These are of service to the insect when walking over rough surfaces, penetrating tiny crevices quite invisible to human eyes. When it climbs a perpendicular wall or walks upside down upon a ceiling the apparently smooth surface has sufficient roughness for these tiny claws to get a grip upon it. However, it may occasionally occur that the bluebottle has other situations to meet, where it cannot use these hooked claws. It may alight upon the smooth surface of the butcher's cleans and dishes or upon the transparent display cases of the shop. The fly can climb such surfaces upon which its claws cannot get a hold because of the two pads between the claws. These pads are brought into play on glass and similar materials, the claws being then thrown back, one to each side, beneath the foot and out of the way, just as, when the claws are in use, the pads are lifted up between them, also to be out of the way."

WHY SO WEAK?
Kidney Trouble May Be
Sapping Your Life Away.

Hopkville people have learned this fact. When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, look to the kidneys for the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well. Here is Hopkville testimony to prove it.

James A. Tawman, brick mason, 1230 South Virginia street, says: "Disorders of the kidneys brought on in my case to a stupor and continued a succession of pains and aches throughout my back that I could not rest comfortably at night and arose in the morning late and sore. I was tired and worn out from morning to night. The kidney secretions were irregular, high-colored and scaling and I was compelled to urinate it allowed to stand. I had no energy left and felt generally run down. I was feeling worse than usual when my attention was attracted by an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box at L. A. Johnson's drug store and began using them. In a few days I noticed that the sections had assumed a natural appearance and the pain and aching had been greatly relieved and by the time I had completed the box there was a wonderful change in my condition. I am glad to state that I am practically cured and Doan's Kidney Pills will be my friend in the future."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

"HER ELOPEMENT."
BY BARRY PAIN.

He was a well-to-do man, immensely respectable in appearance and inclined to portliness. On his return from his office in the evening he found a letter waiting for him on the table in the hall. It was addressed to him in his own handwriting. He took it into the library with him, selected a comfortable chair in a good light and adjusted his reading spectacles. Here followed the letter.

"My dear George, I have elected. If I say it in this plain and direct way without paraphrase and without breaking it to you gently it is because you must for some time past have been expecting something of the kind. I credit your intelligence with that."

"We have been married ten years, and, as you pointed out the other day, we have never exchanged one angry word with each other. Somehow that seems to me to speak for itself. The dead level of decency has never been disturbed. You, as a correct and orthodox solicitor, regard this with intense satisfaction. I content that the scaling has become—well, pretty deadly. It sounds perhaps an exaggeration, but I almost wish that you had on some occasion completely taken us—tactically. I admit—that this kind of thing would continue. It has continued. At the present moment I am quite well preserved and you are a solicitor and we never exchange an angry word. Nor do we ever exchange a word of affection (or glottic).

"The fact that for the better part of ten years I have been acting a part magnificently. I have acted the part of housekeeper so splendidly that at times have deceived myself and believed that I really did take an interest in the tradesman's mess. Perhaps the self-deceit went further than that. I deceived myself into believing that I really enjoyed the portentious and extremely dull dinners that we give every month. I deceived myself into believing that our well regulated and rather somnolent affection was the placid happiness of married lovers. But all the time romance has been alive in me and the flame on the altar is not yet burned out. (My poor George, what on earth will you make of that sentence? Meta, phor always did 'muddle' you.) The flame will not burn forever. One gets tired of knowing how very nearly I asked your silk hat from your hand, kicked it across the hall and went into hysterics. That had had somehow become a symbol of my unity, well-groomed, respectable life. I went into the kitchen and gave the orders (I was able to get the red mullet after all), and then—well, you know the rest. I have told the servants a plausible story and you may be able to save a scandal if you back it. Really, there is nothing to be surprised about. The world is full of such things. A romantic woman and another man, what else can be expected?"

"And now you ask who the man is? You are flustered back over your visit list. Which of the men that have eaten your bread and sour salt at your portentious dinners can have done this wicked thing? You say 'make up your mind easy, George. There is no man in the question. I have lately come to the conclusion that men are a good deal overrated. I am clothing myself and I think it will be perfectly beautiful. I need not worry about money. My own £250 a year will not give me any trouble with fat horses and the big house and the portentious dinners, but I have grown to value these things very little. Two hundred pounds will be quite enough for me. I'll let you get this letter' I shall be in Paris. I shall not write another letter, but you shall know my address from time to time. This will facilitate the work of the private detective. If you are idiot enough to waste my money on me—"

"And, seeing that I go all alone, perhaps it should not be called an elopement, but simply a holiday. And if it is just a holiday it may one day be over and then we may return to work again. I promise nothing."

The letter was signed with her christian name. The man who had read it meditatively for some time and then rang the bell.

"Look here," he said to the man who answered it, "there is some room for dinner to-night. I wish you'd just fetch me from the country and the men to do it. There should be wine in the sauce—some. Tell her so. She probably knows, but I want to make sure. I'll be there at eight, go on and get me a stall for the theater for to-night. That's all, thanks."

The doctors did me no good, and I had given up all hope of being cured, when my druggist advised me to use Herbina. It has made me sound and well." 50c. Sold by Cook & Higgins.

COTTONSEED "OLIVE OIL"
Difference Between It and the Genuine Article Difficult to Detect.

If it weren't for the influence of a name and a tradition Americans would not send money abroad for the cottonseed oil manufactured at home. But to please the American imagination, says the Jacksonville Times Union, it must go abroad to be labeled "olive oil" before they will use it in their salads or for the other uses the alleged olive oil is put in. If it were brought at home for our thing, it would be too cheap. It is the price of "olive oil" that makes it dear to the epicure. No tariff laws can shield us from the impostors put upon us. No experts cannot detect the difference between cottonseed oil and olive oil, it is asserted. One is not as nutritious and thrives as well as the other when refined. Both are bland vegetable oils free from any harmful effect upon the system. Cottonseed is not foiled before the oil is expressed from it. The oil is unusually superior to hog's fat for culinary purposes. It cannot but be wise, while land can only be wholesome if the hog was free from disease when killed and no danger known that when purchasing food. When cottonseed oil is transformed into butter it makes a product superior to most substitutes for cows' butter. Nevertheless great quantities of the southern product will continue to be sent abroad, and Americans will continue to pay the expense of transportation to the foreign handler in order that he may be fooled. He likes to be fooled. Even when he knows that it is impossible to manufacture from pure olives all the olive oil sold he will not take the hint. He doesn't want to. He is above the weakness of a patriotic desire to patronize home products. He wants the brand; never mind what the stuff is.

NOTICE.
Notice is hereby given: That upon the 9th day of August, 1905, there was filed in the clerk's office of the Christian circuit court, a petition, in the name and on behalf of the city of Hopkville, the style of which action is as follows: City of Hopkville Petition Ex parte. The object of which proceeding is to annex certain territory lying south of the corporate limits of the city of Hopkville, between the Palmyra road and the Clarksville pike, consisting of about 36 acres, and more fully described in said petition, to and include same within the corporate limits of the city of Hopkville. And if no defense is made to said petition at the term of the Christian circuit court, commencing on the 25th day of September, 1905, or the court grant further time for making defense the court will render a judgment annexing said proposed territory.

Given under my hand as clerk of the Christian circuit court. This August 9th, 1905.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS
The more Magazines there are, the more Indispensable is The Review of Reviews

"Indispensable." "The one magazine I feel I must take." "The world under a field-glass." "An education in public affairs and current literature."—these are some of the phrases one hears from noted men who read the Review of Reviews. The more magazines there are, the more necessary is the Review of Reviews, because it brings together the best that is in all the most important monthlies of the world. Such is the flood of periodical literature that nowadays people say that the only way to keep up with it is to read the Review of Reviews. Entirely over and above this reviewing section, it has more original matter and illustrations than most magazines, and the most timely and important articles printed in any monthly.

Probably the most useful section of all is Dr. Albert Shaw's illustrated "Progress of the World," where public events and issues are authoritatively and lucidly explained in every issue. Many a subscriber writes, "This department alone is worth more than the price of the magazine." The unique cartoon department depicting current history in caricature, is another favorite. The Review of Reviews covers five continents, and yet is American, first and foremost. Men in public life, the members of Congress, professional men, and the great captains of industry who must keep "up with the times," intelligent men and women all over America, have decided that it is "indispensable."

EVENING SYMPHONY

LATE AFTERNOON HOURS SPENT PLEASURABLY.

Of the Cells of Birds Climax Reached in Whistle of Hermit Thrush —Distant Cry of Night-Hawk.

I had occasion, in the early days of June, to tramp for some miles along an abandoned road which skirted a mountain side, following a ridge of the foothills, and overlooking a wide valley of farm land and pasture, while far beyond there was the dim green line of the Vermont mountains in the west. It was in the late afternoon, the finest hours of all the day, for a western sun made a golden glow over the near fields, and the live things in the wood were lifting their voices in an evening symphony. As I walked along, it pleased me to pick out the various sounds which went to make up this music.

Near me were all sorts of noises that told of lurking animals. A quick, startled rustle in the dry grass told of a frightened meadow mouse; a red squirrel chattered sharply from a thick scolding like a little shrew; and down in the pasture, out of my sight, I heard the whistle of a woodchuck. As if in contrast to this came a noise that told me of the presence of the noblest American animal of all. I was just at the edge of the great game preserve, Combs park, and my ear caught the hoarse grunt of the buffalo, and I knew that somewhere near at hand a herd of the great shaggy, commanding beasts were feeding.

But it was the birds, of course, whose voices were most noticeable in the music. At that hour of the evening, every feathered creature seems to take it as part of the day's duty and pleasure to sing; nor was it difficult to identify the singers. Above my head, an occasional hunting swallow twittered, as he flew, and near an old house a pair of chimney swifts sprang their silver rattle as they circled and curved above their home site. From the bushes and little poplars that lined the road, blackthroated green warblers sang see-zee-zee; a red-eyed vireo wandered industriously among the branches, and expounded a very genuine law in a spirited voice; and a white-breasted nuthatch talked to himself, ank, ank, ank.

A song sparrow lifted his mellow voice from the top of a brush pile. A phoebe called plaintively, and immediately after I heard the sharp snap of his bill, as he tried for a flying insect. A brown thrasher hubbled and quivered and cheered in the distance, a very sent up his spiral song, a succession of notes in a constantly ascending scale, and an ovenbird thrilled ecstatically, as though his little throat were so full of joy that he could not do otherwise than try to impress it upon the world.

After the sun came the climax of bird songs, the distant whistle of the hermit thrush. It can be picked out from all other bird music, because no other singer hereabouts has such a rare beauty of voice. When you have never before heard in sweetness, in purity, in character, as though the singer were aloof from the everyday world, a rare soul alone with his own fine thoughts, that is the hermit. It is not the variety of his notes; it is their single excellence. It is not for their bubbling ecstasy, or their mirthfulness, or for any suggestion of joy; it is merely the wondrous quality of the tone. It is as though you heard a Calve or a Benrich singing to the stars. When I finally had heard the hermit, I was wondering what another poem to match "The Skylark."

Quickly the tune in my ears changed; I was listening to something very close at hand, to the humble of early bees in the apple blossoms, and again to the murmuring of a few small gnats that played in the air in front of me. The sun sank lower, the mountains in the west became a clear blue line, while those to the east were almost blue black. From somewhere, out of the air above, I dropped the cry of a night hawk, and in imagination I saw the bird wheeling and sailing and sliding through the upper air. And now the little peeping from a wicker in the marsh, their shrill birdlike voices were some what suggestive of sandpipers.

The voices, the sounds, were now at full height, and as I sat looking to the evening music there floated up from the valley beneath the low of homing cattle, the clink, clink, clink of the bell on a cow, the ambled clambled to milking and a mad, pleasant sounds suggestive of a man and man's life, of quiet old farm houses, and smoking chimneys, and voices returning from the day's work in the fields.

A COUNTRY ESTATE

ROCKEFELLER SECURING FOR SON A WONDERFUL PLACE.

Plans in Progress for the Home of the Rockefeller Millions—Goody Fortiori of Westchester County Bought.

Grumblers say Rockefeller is trying to buy up all of Westchester county, N. Y., for the great landed estate that is being got ready for John Jr., an estate that it is planned shall equal any of those famed ones over in old England, that mother land that teaches our rich folk how to spend their wealth.

The property has been gathering slowly and subtly, one may say, for so many prices have been paid for the acres, they have been bought now here, now there, at this time and at that. The newspapers have repeated with joy the tale of the saloon keeper that has refused to be ousted at John's bidding, but late paragraphs tell of the inevitable defeat. With not one around to buy the saloon wares, what good is there in keeping the bit of land away from the covetous oil king? One must live, and so the saloon man, too, gives in, and John and young John are lord of all they survey.

Perhaps the picture will be more vivid put as the New York Times graphically has it—John D. Rockefeller's baronial estate is so big that he can ride his automobile 75 miles over his own property without using the same road twice.

That is pretty hard, when some are city-bound the year round in their hot rooms, never can rest in shade of tree, garden roadside flower, listen to a brook's murmur. But hold, this is no trivial matter, the too-much of the rich, the too-little of the poor. This is merely a glimpse at a great big estate of an American landed proprietor.

It is situated among the Poconos hills, the 6,000 acres comprised in the property, and there is many a beautiful view of the Hudson, many a noble group of birch and maples, many a woodland close for squirrels to gambol in, many a field of flowers and grass. It may not be generally known that John Rockefeller is a civil engineer, but the men that are at work improving his property—an army of something like 1,600—realize that the master knows what he is about when he directs about grade and drainage, about who to leave untended, what to change in the broad extent of lands, the many cottages that came in with the purchase.

As yet the great house is not built. The stables are nearly completed, said to be the finest private ones in this country. The house awaits improvements in the son's health, so rumor has it, and probably will be begun soon as he is settled in some place that will act as tonic for his waning vitality. Health improving, anxiety over the father, and the untended, what to the baronial estate, erection of a suitable mansion.

When the estate was in the buying, two fine examples of Colonial dwellings were purchased. One, which was burned a couple of years ago, stood on a site commanding a wonderful view of the Hudson; and here the family dwelt when on the Poconos property. Now they are farther down the valley, but when a view is wanted they can climb to the observatory built on the site of the burned-down house.

Spring and fall find Mr. Rockefeller at Poconos. His passion for golf one of the attractions drawing him thither. His splendid 18-hole golf course is his special pride, as golf is his favorite sport. The New York Times article refers to the house he now dwells in at Poconos as looking, with its glass sun-parlors surrounding both lower and upper story, like a great incubator, and pronounces it a shocking exhibition of architecture. The new house, doubtless, will be very grand.

Poconos will make for John Jr., a magnificent suburban home. So far the property must have cost "father" the neat sum of $5,000,000. The indulgent parent began buying up property back in 1891 for the estate, started in with 100 acres. Sometimes whole villages were bought, sometimes tiny plots of ground. There are historic hills which are to be preserved; for instance, a cottage called the Hackney, where Maj. Andre slept the night before his capture at Tarrytown; then there is Sleepy Hollow, of value apart from its worth in legends and oaths.

Quite a pleasant, interesting occupation this, the establishment of an American estate. Worth while to take time for from golf and million-making.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they will refund one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. ## Hood's Sarsaparilla is unquestionably the greatest blood and liver medicine known. It positively and permanently cures every humor, from Pimples to Scrofula. It is the Best Blood Medicine.

People having relatives and friends buried in the old cemetery in the Southwestern part of the city will be glad to know that Engineer McClaid and Superintendent Outlaw have had that sacred enclosure cleared of briars, weeds and undergrowth, and it now looks as if the resting place of some of our earlier citizens had not entirely faded from the memory of the present generations. This may be set down as one of the good results following the recent historical sketches that appeared in this paper.

Booker Washington admits that he died with John Wamaker and his daughter, Mrs. Warburton, at Saratoga, N. Y. He says he never died with white people in the South, out of respect to Southern customs, but sometimes when lecturing in the North he "has to do it."

CADIZ REPORTS NEGRO KILLING.

Charles Hawkins Shot Dead in His Tracks.

KING ELY DID THE DEED.

Meager Reports Say They Fell Out Over a Game of Cards.

Charles Hawkins, a negro, was shot and killed at Cadiz Sunday by King Ely, as a result of a row said to have arisen over a game of cards. Hawkins was shot under the right eye and his death was practically instantaneous. His mother lives at Gracey and Hawkins was well known there as a negro of rather a turbulent character. No further details of the killing had been received yesterday.

One More Service.

Dr. J. L. Wyatt preached at the Christian church last Sunday night. It was understood that that would be the last union service of the summer, but it is generally understood that another service will be held next Sunday night. Dr. E. L. Southgate, the president of the Ministers' Association, has not yet made an announcement as to who will conduct the service and the place of being held, but due announcement will be made later in the week.

SEPTEMBER STORMS

Will Likely be Followed by Killing Frosts.

On and tonight Friday, September 1, rain, wind and thunder, with equinoctial tempests in the South coast are probably, according to Rev. Hicks. The disturbances will likely be prolonged up to the 5th. Clearing, cooler weather will prevail during the 6th and 7th. Storms of wind, rain and thunder will visit most localities from the 9th to the 11th. The 13th to 16th are also reactionary storm days and decided storm conditions may be expected to continue over these dates. One of the most probable earthquake periods of the month will be central on the 13th, extending twenty-four to thirty-six hours before and after day. Following the general and severe storms about this time, look for a marked change to high barometer and much cooler weather, with frost in many localities, especially northward, between the 15th and 19th. The next regular storm period is central on the 21st—the central day of the Earth's autumnal equinox also. Look for rising temperature, thinning storm clouds, with rain, wind and thunder. Another high barometer and change to decidedly cooler will come in from the north-west close behind these storms. The 27th, 28th and 29th are reactionary storm days and many wide-sweeping and violent storms will visit various parts of the country. This period is also one of maximum earthquake probability. Seismic disturbances and volcanic activity will be natural concomitants of all these phenomena. Look for a decided, rushing high barometer to follow, with change to very cool weather and frost all over central and northern sections.

TOBACCO CAMPAIGN

Trust Fighters Are Organizing in Kentucky.

Eddyville, Ky., Aug. 25.—A large mass meeting of tobacco planters was held here yesterday. Speeches were made by ex-Congressman William Stone, of Kuttawa, and Hon. W. A. Bradley and John E. Garner, of Robertson county, Tenn. Capt. Stone made one of the strongest and best arguments for the Association heard in many days.

Mr. Garner, who is well known throughout the western district, explained the object and purpose of the association at great length. His speech was well received and many times he was interrupted by applause. The meeting did much to strengthen the association in the western district and a mass-meeting has been called for August 28, when this county will perfect its permanent organization and join the association.

Hon. Denny P. Smith, of Cadiz, Ky., Commonwealth's Attorney for this district, volunteered his services to the campaigners who are here from Tennessee.

The fight here is red hot and the trust is sending buyers out bidding low prices for tobacco in the patch. This is considered a strong card for the farmers, inasmuch as they formerly had to run after the buyers to sell after the crop was cured.

Messrs. Bradley and Garner left for Calloway county, where the fight is now being waged.

CUBA PROSPEROUS.

Good Showing For the Little Republic.

Washington, Aug. 29.—The prosperity of Cuba is such that even the most optimistic are surprised at the results which are shown by the latest statistics. There is no section of the country that has not received a great impetus, commercially or industrially, and the influx of tourists and investors during the past year has been such that there were not sufficient hotel accommodations for them, and new and modern hotels will be built for the coming winter. The greatest proof of the development of Cuba during the administration of President Palma can be found in the study of the last figures of the official report of the Cuban Treasury, showing the results of the conservative, wise and progressive government which has ruled the island during the last three years.

The total receipts for the year were $61,751,095.72, plus $7,069,584.88 balance of the previous year, giving a grand total of $68,820,680.60, and if $44,664,407.43, the year's payments, be deducted, a balance remains of $24,156,273.17, the amount in the Cuban Treasury on July last, which, after suffering some deductions for outstanding debts left about $22,000,000 surplus. Part of this will be devoted to public works and part to serve as basis for the money to be applied to settle the balance due to the army.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to beware of such people, who seek to profit, through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease for over 35 years. H. E. ## RESOLUTIONS.

Memorial by Church Hill Grange of Bro. Frank M. Pierce.

The recurring departure of friends continually reminds us of our own mortality and of the great necessity of being ready when the welcome or unwelcome summons comes.

The death of our beloved brother, Frank M. Pierce, removes from our ranks one of our charter members, who has been true to every trust and faithful to every obligation.

After a long illness he entered into rest July 23rd, 1905, aged 73 years. Bro. Pierce was a most exemplary citizen, an earnest Christian and had fulfilled with conscientious fidelity all the obligations of husband, father and friend, and as we trust and believe was well prepared to enter into that rest which remains to the people of God.

Resolved, That we tender to the family and relatives of our deceased brother our earnest and sincere sympathy, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family and published in our county papers and American Grange Bulletin.

Done by order of Church Hill Grange, this Aug. 20th, 1905.

Com. J. D. Clardy, J. R. Clardy, W. H. Adams.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not rest. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bile Beans, I found just what I needed for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by R. C. Hardwick, druggist, at 50c a bottle.

SERIES OF MEETINGS

Being Conducted By Rev. Harding, of Bowling Green.

The Rev. James A. Harding, of Bowling Green, began a series of meetings at Little River Christian church Sunday. There will be services both morning and evening throughout the meeting which will continue about two weeks. Three services were conducted Sunday and dinner was served on the grounds.

State College of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky.

The Agricultural and Mechanical (State College) of Kentucky offers the following courses of study, viz: Agricultural, Horticultural, Chemical, Biological, Mathematical, Physical, Normal School, Classical, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Civil Engineering, and Mining Engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post graduate studies are also provided, leading to a master's degree. Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty number nearly fifty professors and instructors.

County appointees receive free tuition, room rent in the dormitories, fuel and light, and if they remain ten months, traveling expenses. The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern.

The Legislature appropriated $60,000 for a college home for young women and $30,000 for drill hall and gymnasium for men. Both buildings are completed and in use. Military tactics and science are fully provided for as required by Congress.

Graduates from the several courses of study readily find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the College to supply.

Specialists with the necessary number of assistants have charge of each department of natural science. Summer schools are provided for pedagogy, engineering, instruction in science and in arts.

The State College of Kentucky, though bearing hitherto the title of "college," is the only institution in the Commonwealth doing, in any proper sense, university work.

The completion of the College home for young women provides facilities for good board and lodging. It is equipped with all modern conveniences, including bath rooms and room for physical culture. It is heated by steam and lighted by electricity.

An opportunity is thus afforded to young women of obtaining a thorough education in classics, modern language, literature, science, mathematics, logic, metaphysics, history, and political economy.

No other institution in the State offers advantages for education of women at all comparable to those offered by the State College of Kentucky.

was found, but as it had lapsed nearly three years before his family thought it worthless, but when his mother died in 1901, 6 years later, as the policy was with some of her papers, inquiry was made as to whether it had any value, and it was ascertained that the company, under its nonforfeiture system, had extended the insurance for $2,652 for over 3 years, and that it was in force at the time of Mr. Brown's death. Upon proofs of death being furnished the policy was promptly paid in full.

HOUSE GOWNS AND OTHER GOWNS

ALONG GRACEFUL LINES.

THE busiest of women rest all over a few moments every day, that they may keep on with their buying in an energetic and able manner—and also because a bit of rest is so grateful to the truly energetic, the woman that works with her might instead of potters. And when a woman rests, has time to think, she wants to do it in a garment that will not distract from the refreshing succor of a towel. Therefore, we have lounging robes, tea-jackets, kimono—all that class of bedroom attire. And everything should correspond, slips be of the easiest and lightest, corsets removed, petticoats unhampered, the outer dress luxuriously loose. One may take the social cup with boudoir friends attired in short silk petticoat and tea-sack. Such a petticoat is short and shows the gay, coquettish slipper plainly, fits nicely about the hips, is very trimly and voluminous at the bottom. Sacks are of a variety, and all charming when not hunched in the back. As a rule they are short and have a girlish appearance, and as a rule the sack matches the skirt. If the petticoat is of silk, a shapely thing, it is positively short, short. But it is made of beautiful silk, and richly embroidered. This coat is thick, and warm enough to be worn in the winter, as well as on a cool summer day.

The long negligee gown may be on the Empire order, or the Watteau style. And now the Japanese kimono slowly vanishes from favor, being superseded by a Chinese coat, a queer, shapely thing, it is positively short, short. But it is made of beautiful silk, and richly embroidered. This coat is thick, and warm enough to be worn in the winter, as well as on a cool summer day.

The present liking for elbow sleeves and square neck comes in well for the negligee, as very simple ones having these features possess a certain amount of style. The sleeve shown in the figure without the coat is very popular, and we are learning to appreciate the little cape wraps of silk and other light-weight materials. Sometimes lace is used for the cape, sometimes linen is employed, again this cloth. They are so convenient to throw on of a summer evening, and really are more becoming than a tail and a suit, that would so easily shed dust. It seemed just the thing for summer travel.

There is nothing smarter for country wear this summer in the way of shirt-waist suits than the ones made of calico. Their first coat is slight—but the laundry bill! For the girl that wants to look out at athletic sports but take no part herself, the white serge suit is a favorite. White linen is a craze this year, some girls are aiming to appear in the summer through a tailor suit of moderate weight for day time, the thinnest of handkerchief linen for evenings. Linens are declared to be in fashion for all occasions save traveling.

Slowly we are learning to appreciate the little cape wraps of silk and other light-weight materials. Sometimes lace is used for the cape, sometimes linen is employed, again this cloth. They are so convenient to throw on of a summer evening, and really are more becoming than a tail and a suit, that would so easily shed dust. It seemed just the thing for summer travel.

Gilt bells are worn, and when good, are quite expensive. Narrow belts are promised, and it is more than probable this fall we shall have the princely effect, the waist fitting over the skirt without the use of a bodice or belt of any sort.

THE TRIM GIRL OF TODAY

NOW the summer girl must be neat and trim, rather than blowy and trying to wear an exaggerated holiday air. She must be careful of her appearance, eschew untidy hair and rumpled apparel. She may play all the likes-out-of-doors, but she must wear a veil to keep rebellious locks in place, she may keep off tan from arms and hands with long gloves.

Maybe it is because she has to live up to her hat, such a neat little affair as it is. It sits closely down on smoothly coiled hair, trimmings and late mode, wear one of the trim small turbans above enlorged, and you will be what the summer girl should be above all else—dainty and fresh.

Many of the wash shirt-waist suits come in three pieces, the shirt-waist suit itself and a bit of a summer coat, closed in size, weight and wide elbow sleeves or close-fitting ones.

For cooler wear, silk is in favor, a little silk bolero suit and a variety of silks would provide madam for almost any occasion the season might present. Two hats are enough; the small one for tailor suits, the larger, more elaborate for afternoon and evenings. However, we find many that approve of the turban for all hours of the day. It is such a novelty they are too fond of it to give it up solely for outling and simpler costumes.

Electric Traction Wins.

Since the world's fair met in Chicago, when a steam engine in a tug of war contest succeeded in dragging an electric locomotive back, the development of the latter has steadily progressed until it has reached a stage where the electric locomotive assumes superiority. It has been so greatly improved in size, weight and power that recent tests prove it to be more than able to hold its own. Between a specially selected Pacific type steam passenger engine and the latest model of electric locomotive the latter came out well ahead in all of the trial runs. In addition the weight of the trains behind the locomotives was 56 tons greater for the electric factor for its competitor, although the greater weight of the steam locomotive made the total weight of the trains approximately equal.

MY LADY'S HEALTH.

DOUBTLESS health is beyond price, as it is the real road to beauty. We will endeavor to show you how this great blessing may be cultivated or acquired without wealth. What is it that makes some of our young American women two of Nature's beauties, and those who want to be better than bright eyes and rosy cheeks will embrace every opportunity of being in the open air. Now important, than all of those, is that the young woman or middle-aged woman starts with a healthy system. If she does not, she is bound to have that dragged-down look which goes with weakness. But this is not difficult to cure, because a physician, who must be specially of diseases of women, has given to the world a medicine which is absolutely a cure for these weaknesses. We mean Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It stands alone as a medicine which has been tested and recommended for the last thirty-eight years. It stands alone as the only medicine now on the market which is guaranteed to contain no alcohol or narcotics of any kind.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. "I have used your 'Favorite Prescription' for several years, and it has done me a great deal of good. I had hot and cold flashes, sick headaches, became excited, nervous and irritable. My appetite was ruined and for days I was unable to eat a fair meal. My own recommendation is to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has made a great change for the better. Within two weeks the unpleasant feelings had disappeared. I have a husband and eight children and am able to attend to my household duties without any more trouble. I can recommend your 'Favorite Prescription' as a grand medicine for women." Mrs. Mary Emerson, St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets clear the complexion and sweeten the breath, they cleanse and regulate the stomach, liver and bowels and produce permanent benefit and do not react on the system. One is a gentle laxative. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DISPOSING OF OLD GUNS.

Government Has Large Number at Coast Forts That Are in the Way.

"A difficult problem to solve," said an ordnance officer the other day, relates the Washington Post, "is the disposing of the obsolete guns which are now occupying places at many of the fortifications along the sea coast. At the time these big guns were made they were of the latest pattern, and it was supposed that they would last for a great many years, and be always formidable to the ships of any foe that attempted to enter our harbors. Then there came a period of intense activity in the matter of building protected cruisers, and it was found necessary to meet naval developments by improvements in guns. Consequently the inventive genius of the United States and foreign countries went to work, and the result has been the development of such guns as to render the old ones absolutely useless for any purpose whatever. The new guns are almost mechanically perfect, and are so much superior that it would be useless to attempt to do anything in the way of using the older pattern guns. The result is that the government has got, at the different forts along the coast, a large number of these old guns, and it really does not know what to do with them. It is impossible to dispose of them in any other way than to stack them up outside of the forts, or throw them into the sea. No foreign nation would buy them because they are not worth moving. They cannot be used anywhere in the United States. As to making junk of them, the cost of breaking them up would be more than the iron is worth after it was broken. It would be utterly impossible to melt them up in their present state, as pieces of iron or steel do not melt readily when in such immense blocks. These guns might be dumped into the sea at some convenient point, or stacked up in the sand, but in some way the ordnance bureau must get rid of them and take them out of the way of the forts, as they occupy space that is wanted for other purposes."

UTILITY OF BATTLESHIP.

Nothing More Than a Mobile Gun Platform, Says This Authority.

Primarily, the battleship is merely a gun platform which can be moved about. It would be far cheaper for a country in need of defense from a foe coming over sea to mount guns around its shores and abstain from building battleships, says Booklovers Magazine. The shore guns might be supported by some coast defense ships—small monitors. But this is a form of economy in which no nation with oceanic commerce and distant possessions can indulge. Consequently men of war are built to go anywhere and to do anything. The battleship is a mobile gun platform. The principal weapons of the Kansas comprise four 12 inch guns which can discharge, according to the proficiency of the gunners, from one to two projectiles of 884 pounds a minute; eight of the eight-inch weapons, each firing a 259-pound shell at the rate of two or three a minute, and 32 seven-inch pieces, each of which can throw projectiles weighing 175 pounds three and one-half times in 60 seconds. In addition, 29 three-inch guns discharge per minute 12 shells weighing 14 pounds. In the first minute of an action at sea the discharge of a single broadside would result in about 14,500 pounds of metal being hurled through space with tremendous force. The surprising anomaly is that while these guns, the cause of the ship's existence, cost less than $1,000,000, the mountings and the platform on which they are carried and moved from one side of the world to the other, if the need arises, entail an expenditure of not far short of $7,000,000. The guns are cheap; it is the platform with its machinery and its 4,000 tons of armor which is expensive.

A Mechanical Author. The late Guy Boothby, author of many novels, called himself a mechanical author. He worked with the phonograph and rarely wrote a line with pen or typewriter.

The eclipses will be partial here, and can be seen better with the aid of a smoked or colored glass. Half of the sun will be observed when it rises and the dark shadow will grow until bright crescent is seen, then the shadow will recede and by six o'clock the disc will be clear again.

TIPPED HER TOE.

Little Girl Falls and Breaks Her Arm.

Alice Long, the 11-year-old daughter of Esq. W. R. Long, fell and broke her right arm near the wrist Sunday. The little girl, in company with several companions, was at the sanitarium, and while walking on a joist she tipped her toe and fell. Drs. Schaefer and Petrie were called and set the fractured limb. This was the second time her arm had been broken.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 22, 1905.
Capt. R. S. Pool,

Cerulean Springs, Ky.
My Dear Sir: As secretary of the Nashville Academy of Medicine, I have been directed by that body to again express to you their appreciation for your recent courtesies.

A unanimous vote of thanks was accorded you in our last minutes, and those who went to Cerulean Springs expressed great pleasure in their visit to you.

With best wishes, I remain
Respectfully
H. M. TIGERT, M. D., Sect.

The doctors held their meeting in the handsome new pavilion in front of the office, which is one of many improvements made since the last season. The entire grounds have been beautified and rendered attractive and in many respects the accommodations have been better this year than ever before.

Buggies!

5 MORE CARS! 5

Having had the biggest sale this year ever made by any firm in Hopkinsville, we were encouraged to order five cars more, later than we usually buy for the months of August and September.

On this sale we will, on account of the low price we obtained, sell Buggies, Surreys and Phaetons at $5.00 to $20.00 each less than they have ever been sold in the city. Purchasers residing in Todd, Logan, Hopkins, Trigg and Caldwell counties, Ky., and Montgomery county, Tenn., will have their railroad fare both ways paid back to them upon presentation of this coupon. This sale will continue until October 1st, 1905.
